

Table of Contents

PREFACE	V
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	VII

PART ONE. INTRODUCTION

Section One. Tort Law and Its Purposes	3
Chapter One. An Overview of Tort Law	3
¶ 1.01. The Province of Tort	3
A. The Subjects of Tort Law	3
B. Working Definition	4
¶ 1.02. Competing Approaches to Tort Law	6
A. Unification Versus Pluralism	6
B. Doctrinal Versus Functional	7
C. The Practical and the Theoretical	7
D. The Particular and the Comprehensive	8
¶ 1.03. Tort Doctrines	9
A. The Culpability Spectrum	9
B. A Catalog of Tort Theories	9
¶ 1.04. Rationales	10
¶ 1.05. Tort Law as a System	19
¶ 1.06. Relation to Other Systems	20
¶ 1.07. Tort Law and Society	24

[Chapters 2–5 are reserved for supplementary material]

PART TWO. THEORIES OF LIABILITY AND DEFENSES

Section Two. Intentional Torts	27
Chapter Six. Assault	27
¶ 6.01. Definition	27
A. The Act	28
B. Intent	29
C. Apprehension	30
D. Harmful or Offensive Contact	31
¶ 6.02. Policy Considerations	31
Chapter Seven. Battery	33
¶ 7.01. Elements	33
A. Contact	34
B. Unconsented	34
C. Unprivileged	35
D. Intentionality	36
E. “Transferred Intent”	40
F. The “Everyday Touching”	41

G. “Harmful or Offensive”	41
H. Comparison and Overlaps with Assault.....	42
¶ 7.02. The Legal Consequences of a Battery	43
A. Unforeseen Consequences	43
B. Statutes of Limitations; Punitive Damages	43
¶ 7.03. Special Applications	44
A. Domestic Violence	44
B. The Federal Tort Claims Act.....	45
1. Third Party Crimes	45
2. Pranks.....	46
C. Sexual Harassment.....	46
¶ 7.04. Rationales.....	46
¶ 7.05. Conduct Bordering Intentional Torts	48
Chapter Eight. Intrusion	49
¶ 8.01. Definition.....	49
¶ 8.02. Methods of Intrusion and Protected Spheres	50
¶ 8.03. Policies.....	54
A. Interests Protected.....	54
B. Balancing.....	54
[Chapter 9 is reserved for supplementary material]
Chapter Ten. False Imprisonment.....	57
¶ 10.01. Intended Act.....	57
¶ 10.02. Lack of Consent and Privilege	58
¶ 10.03. Confinement.....	59
¶ 10.04. Methods of Confinement	59
¶ 10.05. Knowledge of Confinement or Harm	60
¶ 10.06. Constitutional Dimensions	60
¶ 10.07. Interests and Rationales	61
Chapter Eleven. False Arrest.....	63
¶ 11.01. General Definition	63
¶ 11.02. Specific Rules	63
¶ 11.03. Section 1983	64
¶ 11.04. Social Goals, Behavioral Assumptions and Normative Premises	65
Chapter Twelve. Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress	67
¶ 12.01. Introduction	67
¶ 12.02. Elements.....	68
A. Intentional or Reckless	68
B. Severe Emotional Distress	70
C. Extreme and Outrageous	70
D. Sexual Harassment.....	73
E. Relationship Among the Elements of the Tort	75

F. Effects on Third Parties.....	76
G. Distressing Publications.....	76
¶ 12.03. Establishing Boundaries for a Developing Tort	77
A. Balancing.....	77
B. A Problem of Principle.....	77
C. Reprise: The Role of the Judge.....	78
Chapter Thirteen. Fraud.....	79
¶ 13.01. Overview.....	79
¶ 13.02. Requirement of Factual Representation	79
¶ 13.03. Nondisclosure.....	80
¶ 13.04. Scienter.....	81
¶ 13.05. Reliance, Materiality and Causation.....	82
¶ 13.06. Rationales.....	83
¶ 13.07. Other Theories Based on Representations.....	84
Chapter Fourteen. Varieties of Intentional Torts	85
¶ 14.01. Malicious Prosecution.....	85
¶ 14.02. Abuse of Process.....	86
¶ 14.03. Heartbalm Torts	87
Chapter Fifteen. Frontier Theories	89
¶ 15.01. Prima Facie Tort.....	89
¶ 15.02. Section 870 and the “Innominate” Tort.....	90
¶ 15.03. Morrison v. N.B.C.	91
¶ 15.04. The Struggle over Tort Categories and “Formalism”	92
Chapter Sixteen. Defense of Property	95
¶ 16.01. The Prevailing Rule on Deadly Force: No Privilege	95
¶ 16.02. Reasonableness Test	96
¶ 16.03. A Spectrum of Rules.....	97
¶ 16.03A. Statutory Immunities.....	98
¶ 16.04. Merchants’ Privilege	99
Chapter Seventeen. Consent.....	103
¶ 17.01. Definition.....	103
¶ 17.02. Limitations on Consent	105
¶ 17.03. Policies Concerning Fraudulently Procured Consent	107
Section Three. The Standard of Care in Negligence.....	109
Chapter Eighteen. Introduction to Negligence	109
¶ 18.01. Negligence Law and Specific Activities.....	109
¶ 18.02. Procedural Aspects of Negligence	111
Chapter Nineteen. Doctrine and Terminology of
Negligence.....	115
¶ 19.01. Doctrinal Definitions	115
¶ 19.02. Standard of Care: Concepts and Terminology	117
A. Ordinary Prudence	117

B.	Knowledge, Actual and Potential	120
C.	Foreseeability; Frequency of Accidents	120
D.	Varieties of Terminology	122
E.	The “Learned Hand Test” and Other Economic Standards	123
F.	A Multi-Factored View of Negligence	128
¶ 19.03.	Guidelines for Deriving the Negligence Standard.....	129
A.	Legislative Rules.....	129
B.	Violation of Industry Standards	129
C.	Industry Custom as a Defense	130
D.	Feasible Alternatives.....	131
E.	Especially High Standards.....	131
F.	Lay Judgments.....	132
G.	Multiple Approaches.....	133
¶ 19.04.	Gross Negligence	134
Chapter Twenty. Possessors of Land: Classifications		135
¶ 20.01.	The Traditional Categories	135
A.	Invitees	135
B.	Licensees	137
C.	Trespassers.....	139
D.	Child Trespassers	140
E.	Trespassers at the Boundary	143
¶ 20.02.	The Categories Disputed	143
¶ 20.03.	Competing Considerations of Justice	145
Chapter Twenty-One. Liability of Possessors of Land for Third Party Acts.....		147
¶ 21.01.	The Functional Problem.....	147
¶ 21.02.	The General Rules	148
¶ 21.03.	Functional Applications	148
A.	Public Places	148
B.	Multi-Family Residences: Apartments and Condominiums	150
C.	Social Hosts	152
D.	Prisons	152
E.	Schools	153
¶ 21.04.	Comparative Fault.....	154
¶ 21.05.	Underlying Policies.....	155
Chapter Twenty-Two. Statutory Violations		157
¶ 22.01.	Creating or Modifying a Cause of Action	158
¶ 22.02.	Implied Causes of Action.....	158
¶ 22.03.	Statutory Purpose.....	159
¶ 22.04.	Liability Per Se	160
¶ 22.05.	Negligence Per Se	161
¶ 22.06.	Presumption of Negligence	162

¶ 22.07. Evidence of Negligence163
 ¶ 22.08. Excuse and Justification164

Chapter Twenty-Three. Professional Standards of

Care 167

¶ 23.01. Liability Doctrines168
 ¶ 23.02. Judge and Jury169
 ¶ 23.03. Specialization and Expert Witnesses169
 ¶ 23.04. Geography; Medical Residents.....170
 ¶ 23.05. Honest Error in Judgment173
 ¶ 23.06. Custom.....174
 ¶ 23.07. Competing Approaches to the Medical Standard of Care175
 ¶ 23.08. Legal Malpractice Compared176

[Chapters 24–25 are reserved for supplementary material]

Section Four. Defenses to Negligence Claims 179

Chapter Twenty-Six. Express Assumption of Risk..... 179

¶ 26.01. Clarity and Conspicuousness179
 ¶ 26.02. “Public Policy” and Competing Rationales.....182

Chapter Twenty-Seven. Informed Consent 187

¶ 27.01. General Doctrines187
 ¶ 27.02. Elements of the Doctrine.....189
 ¶ 27.03. Philosophical Premises.....194
 ¶ 27.04. Behavioral Assumptions195
 ¶ 27.05. Economic Premises196

[Chapters 28–29 are reserved for supplementary material]

Chapter Thirty. Implied Assumption of Risk:

Generally 199

¶ 30.01. The Basic Concept and Variations199
 A. Basic Definition.....199
 1. Voluntariness200
 2. Knowledge of Risk.....201
 3. Unreasonable.....203
 B. Open and Obvious.....203
 C. “No Duty”204
 D. No Negligence205
 ¶ 30.02. Underlying Ideas and Competing Philosophies.....206
 ¶ 30.03. The Workplace207
 A. Voluntariness as Crucial Element.....208
 B. The Fireman’s Rule and Related Bars to Recovery209
 C. Theory and Policy210
 D. Simplifying Doctrine.....211

¶ 30.04. Sports and Recreation	212
A. Professional Sports	213
1. Implied Consent	214
2. No Duty	214
3. Implied Primary Assumption of Risk/No Duty	215
4. Implied Secondary Unreasonable Assumption of Risk	215
5. Implied Secondary Reasonable Assumption of Risk	215
6. Obviousness	216
7. Beyond Civilization?: Hackbart	216
B. Recreation	219
1. Common Law	219
2. Spectators	220
3. Statutory Assumption of Risk Defenses	222
4. No Negligence	223
Chapter Thirty-One. Contributory Negligence	225
¶ 31.01. Definition: An Objective Standard	225
¶ 31.02. Questions of Fact and Questions of Law	226
¶ 31.03. Rationales	230
Chapter Thirty-Two. Classifying Defenses Based on Plaintiff's Conduct	233
¶ 32.01. Contributory Negligence and Assumption of Risk: Overlaps and Contrasts	233
¶ 32.02. A Basic Classification System	236
Chapter Thirty-Three. Comparative Fault	239
¶ 33.01. Basic Principles and Models	239
¶ 33.02. Policy Considerations	240
A. Fairness	240
B. Deterrence	241
C. Effects on the Legal Process	243
¶ 33.03. Doctrinal Issues	245
¶ 33.04. Summary: Justice, Doctrine and Terminology	247
[Chapter 34 is reserved for supplementary material]
Section Five. Strict Liability and Analogues for Environmental Damage	249
Chapter Thirty-Five. Strict Liability for Activities	249
¶ 35.01. Strict Liability and Fault: Disputes About History	249
¶ 35.02. Rylands v. Fletcher	250
¶ 35.03. The Restatement Formula	251
¶ 35.04. Applications and Controversies	253
¶ 35.05. Rationales	255

Chapter Thirty-Six. Private Nuisance	257
¶ 36.01. The Social Problem and an Overview of Doctrine	257
A. Nuisance	257
B. Trespass	259
C. The Rylands Doctrine	260
D. Negligence	261
¶ 36.02. Nuisance Defined	261
A. Interference with Use and Enjoyment	261
B. The Spectrum of Culpability Standards	261
C. Unreasonableness	262
D. Factors in the Determination of Nuisance	263
1. The Nature of the Activity	263
2. The Gravity of Harm to the Plaintiff	263
3. Frequency of Occurrence	263
4. Comparative Economic Interests	263
5. The Environmental Context	264
6. Priority in Time	264
¶ 36.03. Remedies	264
A. Damages	264
B. Full Injunction	265
C. Injunction with Plaintiffs Paying Off Defendants	265
D. No Nuisance	266
¶ 36.04. Policies at Issue	266
A. Economics and the Law	266
B. Strategic Behavior	267
C. Moral Considerations	268
D. Wealth Distribution	268
Chapter Thirty-Seven. Public Nuisance	271
¶ 37.01. Public Nuisance as a Substantive Tort	271
A. General Definition	271
B. Public Right; Private Nuisance Distinguished	272
¶ 37.02. Remedies	273
A. Damages	273
B. Injunctions	274
¶ 37.03. Standing	274
¶ 37.04. Choices in the Characterization of Issues	276
Section Six. Products Liability	279
Chapter Thirty-Eight. Strict Liability for Products	279
¶ 38.01. Historical Background	280
¶ 38.02. Section 402A	281
¶ 38.03. Products as a Special Category	282
A. Goods to Which Definition Applies	282
B. Comparison with Rylands -Type Doctrines	284

¶ 38.04. Categories of Strict Products Liability	284
A. Manufacturing Defects	284
B. Design Defects.....	285
C. Failure to Warn.....	286
¶ 38.05. Rationales.....	287
A. Controlling Behavior	287
B. Redressing Imbalances in Information	288
C. Fairness	288
D. Avoiding Problems of Proof	289
E. Response to Product Portrayals	289
F. Consumer Expectations.....	290
G. Redressing Deficiencies of Warranty Law	290
¶ 38.06. Summary	291
Chapter Thirty-Nine. Defect in Products Liability	293
¶ 39.01. Rationales.....	294
¶ 39.02. Tests for Defect	294
A. The Stark Definition	294
B. Unreasonably Dangerous	295
C. Dean Wade’s Catalog.....	295
D. The Barker Test	296
¶ 39.03. The Products Restatement and Criticisms	296
¶ 39.04. Challenging Issues in Defect Jurisprudence	299
A. The Unavoidably Unsafe Product	299
B. Common “Good” Products.....	300
C. Product Continuums.....	301
D. Judge and Jury	302
¶ 39.05. Relation of Defect to Defenses and Warnings.....	303
A. Defenses Based on Plaintiff’s Conduct and Knowledge	303
B. Defect and Failure to Warn.....	304
 [Chapters 40–41 are reserved for supplementary material]
Section Seven. The Boundaries of Fault	307
Chapter Forty-Two. Private Necessity	307
¶ 42.01. The Problem Defined	307
¶ 42.02. A Classic Case: Vincent v. Lake Erie Transportation Company	308
A. The Case	308
B. Tort Doctrine	308
¶ 42.03. Explanations and Rationales	310
A. Economic Consequences	310
B. Fairness	311
C. General Private Law Doctrine	312

¶ 42.04. Implications for Policy and Doctrine312
 A. Corrective Justice and Instrumental Effects312
 B. Cutting Across Doctrines.....313
 C. Broad Issues of Loss Distribution.....313

PART THREE. PROBLEMS IN CAUSATION AND LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

Section Eight. Proof and Causation 317

Chapter Forty-Three. Proof: An Overview 317

¶ 43.01. Introduction: Facts and Truth; Law and Policy.....317
 ¶ 43.02. Sufficiency of the Evidence318
 A. Negligence318
 B. Causation.....320
 ¶ 43.03. Judge and Jury; Proof Rules and Policy.....322

Chapter Forty-Four. Circumstantial Evidence

Generally 325

¶ 44.01. Proving Probabilities325
 ¶ 44.02. Experts325
 ¶ 44.03. Alternative Hypotheses326
 ¶ 44.04. Circumstantial Proof and Tort Rationales328

Chapter Forty-Five. Res Ipsa Loquitur 331

¶ 45.01. The Substantive Rule332
 A. “Ordinarily Does Not Occur”332
 B. Exclusive Control332
 C. Elimination of Other Causes.....333
 D. Accessibility of Explanation to Defendant334
 ¶ 45.02. Procedural Effects.....334
 ¶ 45.03. Multiple Defendants.....335
 ¶ 45.04. Practical Limits on Res Ipsa335
 ¶ 45.05. Res Ipsa, the Substantive Standard of Care, and the Policies of Tort Law336
 A. Substantive Implications.....336
 B. Justice in Explaining Unexplained Accidents337
 C. The Still-Unexplained Accident337
 D. Policy Arguments337
 ¶ 45.06. Medical Res Ipsa339
 A. Elements of Medical Res Ipsa339
 1. Substantive.....339
 2. Procedural Effects339
 B. Collateral Legal Rules340
 1. Malpractice Doctrine.....340
 2. The Role of Experts340
 3. Circumstantial Evidence plus Specific Acts of Negligence341

C. Special Policy Considerations in Medical Res
Ipsa	341
1. Statistical Probabilities	341
2. Policy Concerns About Health Care
Delivery.....	342

[Chapters 46–47 are reserved for supplementary material]

Chapter Forty-Eight. Expert Evidence and Professional Negligence.....	345
¶ 48.01. The Rule, the Principal Exception, and Rationales.....	345
¶ 48.02. Linkage with Circumstantial Evidence.....	348
¶ 48.03. Policies in Conflict	348
Chapter Forty-Nine. Proof of Causation and Scientific Evidence	351
¶ 49.01. What Must Be Proved	351
¶ 49.02. Proof and Substantive Rules.....	352
¶ 49.03. Exposure.....	352
¶ 49.04. Expert Testimony	353
A. General Requirement and Exceptions.....	353
B. Some Relevant Sciences	354
C. Qualifications of Experts	355
D. Verbal Formulas	356
E. Standards for Admissibility of Expert Testimony:
Daubert	357
¶ 49.05. Tort and Compensation Systems Compared.....	359
¶ 49.06. The Problem of Future Harm	360
A. Compensation for Increased Probability of
Illness.....	360
B. Fear of Illness.....	363
C. Medical Monitoring.....	365
Section Nine. Multiple Tortfeasors	367
Chapter Fifty. Joint and Multiple Liabilities	367
¶ 50.01. Definitions and Mechanisms.....	367
¶ 50.02. Theories of Joint and Multiple Liability	368
A. Joint Venture and Joint Enterprise	368
B. Concert of Action.....	369
C. Alternative Liability	369
D. Products Liability	370
¶ 50.03. Competing Arguments	372
A. The Justice of Joint and Multiple Liabilities	372
B. The Injustice of Joint and Multiple Liabilities	373

Chapter Fifty-One. Apportionment Among Multiple Defendants 375

- ¶ 51.01. Indemnity375
 - A. Active-Passive376
 - B. Primary-Secondary376
- ¶ 51.02. Contribution377
- ¶ 51.03. Immunity Rules: Workers’ Compensation379
- ¶ 51.04. Comparative Responsibility381
 - A. Concepts and Language.....381
 - B. Rationales.....382

[Chapters 52–53 are reserved for supplementary material]

Chapter Fifty-Four. Settlement..... 385

- ¶ 54.01. Classes of Settlement Situations386
 - A. Verdict Against Non-Settling Defendant for More than Settlement Multiplied by the Number of Defendants, but Jury Views Settling Defendant as Also Culpable.....386
 - B. Settling Defendant “Absolved” at Trial of Non-Settling Defendant; Judgment for More than Settlement Multiplied by Number of Defendants388
 - C. Jury Exonerates Defendant Who Settled for a Comparatively Large Amount and Holds Non-Settling Defendant Completely Responsible, or Significantly at Fault, for a Sum Compared with Which the Settlement Figure Is Close in Amount, if Not More389
 - D. Settling Defendant Seeks Reimbursement from Non-Settling Defendant.....390
 - E. When to Calculate Plaintiffs’ Fault: “Fault First” vs. “Settlement First”391
- ¶ 54.02. Policies Associated with Credits for Settlements392
 - A. Policies in Favor of Allowing Credit to Non-Settling Defendants392
 - B. Policies Opposing Credits to Non-Settling Defendants392
 - C. Incentives Summarized393

Section Ten. Duty and Proximate Cause 395

Chapter Fifty-Five. Duty and Proximate Cause: An Introduction 395

- ¶ 55.01. Some Basic Terms and Concepts395
- ¶ 55.02. The Palsgraf Case.....396
- ¶ 55.03. Concepts Illustrated398
- ¶ 55.04. Duty, Justice and Judgment404

¶ 55.05. Diverse Theories	405
Chapter Fifty-Six. Statutory Violations and “Cause”	409
¶ 56.01. The Problem	409
¶ 56.02. The Rules.....	409
¶ 56.03. Language and Doctrine	411
¶ 56.04. The Uses and Limits of Statutory Purpose	412
¶ 56.05. General Policies	414
Chapter Fifty-Seven. Intervening Criminal Acts and Other Tortious Behavior of Third Parties	417
¶ 57.01. Doctrine and Phraseology	417
¶ 57.02. Application of Doctrines Illustrated	418
¶ 57.03. Caretakers of Potentially Violent Persons	422
¶ 57.04. Policy Considerations	424
¶ 57.05. Duty Concerning Tortious Acts of Third Parties	426
[Chapter 58 is reserved for supplementary material]
Chapter Fifty-Nine. Negligently Inflicted Emotional Distress	429
¶ 59.01. Impact on the Plaintiff’s Body	429
A. General Parasitic Damages.....	429
B. Odd Chains of Psychological Consequences.....	429
¶ 59.02. Physical Effects of Shock or Fright Without Impact	431
¶ 59.03. Mental Consequences of Distressing Events	432
[Chapter 60 is reserved for supplementary material]
Chapter Sixty-One. Bystanders.....	439
¶ 61.01. The Problem	439
¶ 61.02. The Limits	440
¶ 61.03. Governing Policies	444
A. Fairness and Justice	444
B. Insurance Factors	445
C. Certainty as a General Jurisprudential Concern.....	445
D. Concern About Proof of Injury	445
E. The Vicissitudes of Life	446
F. Moral Proportionality and Degrees of Culpability	446
G. Economic Incentives	447
H. Arguments over a Single Recovery Rule	447
[Chapter 62 is reserved for supplementary material]
Chapter Sixty-Three. Rescuers	449
¶ 63.01. The Problem	449

¶ 63.02. The Wagner Case449

¶ 63.03. General Concepts and Terminology450

¶ 63.04. Fact Patterns451

 A. Diversity of Situations.....451

 B. Professionals as Rescuers.....452

 C. Odd Consequences452

 D. Rescued Person as Defendant453

¶ 63.05. Applicable Policies453

Chapter Sixty-Four. Economic Loss 455

¶ 64.01. The Problem455

¶ 64.02. Concepts and Language458

¶ 64.03. Policy Arguments.....459

¶ 64.04. Functional Applications461

 A. Products Liability461

 B. Environmental Incidents.....463

 C. Bizarre Chains of Consequences.....465

Chapter Sixty-Five. Duty to Act 467

¶ 65.01. Elements of the Rules Where Duty Imposed467

 A. Relationships.....467

 B. Undertakings469

¶ 65.02. The Pure Duty to Act Problem.....470

¶ 65.03. Arguments in Favor of a Duty471

¶ 65.04. Legislation.....473

¶ 65.05. Conceptual Overlaps474

¶ 65.06. Duties of Governments and Public Officials475

PART FOUR. THE TORT LIABILITY OF PUBLISHERS

Section Eleven. Defamation and Invasion of Privacy 479

Chapter Sixty-Six. Defamation: The Basic Law 479

¶ 66.01. Defamation Defined.....479

 A. Overview.....479

 B. The Core Concept.....480

 C. The “Libel Proof” Plaintiff481

¶ 66.02. Publication482

¶ 66.03. Identification483

¶ 66.04. Fact vs. Opinion484

¶ 66.05. Culpability.....485

¶ 66.06. Libel Per Se, Slander Per Se and Special Damages485

¶ 66.07. Privilege.....488

 A. Absolute Privileges489

 B. Qualified Privilege489

¶ 66.08. Goals in Conflict490

Chapter Sixty-Seven. Constitutional Defamation Law	491
¶ 67.01. Constitutional Development	491
A. The New York Times Case: Public Officials	492
B. Butts and Walker: Public Figures	492
C. Gertz : Private Individuals	493
D. Gertz : Limited Purpose Public Figures	494
E. The Greenmoss Case	494
F. The Complete Immunity Position	495
¶ 67.02. Applying the Constitutional Rules	495
A. The Type of Plaintiff: Defining the Limited Purpose Public Figure	495
B. Standards Governing Actions by Private Individuals	497
1. Culpability Requirements	497
2. The Type of Defamation	497
3. Kinds of Damages	498
¶ 67.03. Specialized Constitutional Libel Rules	498
A. Burden of Proof: Philadelphia Newspapers v. Hepps	499
B. “Clear and Convincing” Standard for Actual Malice: Anderson	499
C. Attributed Quotations: Masson	499
¶ 67.04. Rationales and Public Policies	500
Chapter Sixty-Eight. Fact and Opinion.....	503
¶ 68.01. Defining the Problem.....	503
¶ 68.02. Summarizing the Law: Leading Cases.....	504
¶ 68.03. Functional Analysis	509
¶ 68.04. Fair Comment	509
¶ 68.05. The Policies at Issue	510
Chapter Sixty-Nine. Media and Privacy	513
¶ 69.01. Public Disclosure of Private Facts	513
¶ 69.02. Fictionalization	516
¶ 69.03. The “False Light” Tort	517
¶ 69.04. Appropriation	519
¶ 69.05. Intrusion and Other Privacy-Related Doctrines.....	521
¶ 69.06. The Policies at Issue	523

[Chapter 70 is reserved for supplementary material]

PART FIVE. VALUING THE INTERESTS

Section Twelve. Damages in Tort Law	527
Chapter Seventy-One. Quantifying Economic Losses for Personal Injury	527
¶ 71.01. Categories of Economic Loss	528

A.	Medical Expenses; The Collateral Source Rule	528
B.	Earnings	529
C.	Household Services	530
¶ 71.02.	Theories of Personal Injury Damages	530
A.	General Concepts	530
B.	Economic Approaches	531
1.	Capital	531
2.	Rent.....	531
¶ 71.03.	Rationales for Compensatory Damages	532
A.	Corrective Justice	532
B.	Reparation	532
C.	Restoration	533
D.	Disappointment of Expectations	533
E.	Deterrence	533
F.	Supply and Demand for Danger	534
G.	Self-Assessment	534
H.	Dignitary Valuations	535
I.	Nominal Damages.....	535
J.	Policy Critiques	535
¶ 71.04.	Damages for Death.....	537
A.	Wrongful Death Statutes	537
B.	Survival Statutes Compared.....	538
C.	Technical Issues and Policy Controversies in Wrongful Death and Survival	539
Chapter Seventy-Two. Assessing Intangibles.....		541
¶ 72.01.	Categories of Noneconomic Damages	541
A.	Pain.....	541
B.	Suffering.....	543
C.	Fear.....	543
D.	Capacity to Enjoy Life	544
E.	Consortium	545
F.	Bereavement	545
G.	Intangible Death Damages Generally	546
¶ 72.02.	Arguments About Justifications and Rationales.....	547
A.	The Basic Issue of Propriety	547
B.	Reviewing Awards for Noneconomic Damages	549
1.	Generally	549
2.	In Death Cases	551
Chapter Seventy-Three. Punitive Damages.....		553
¶ 73.01.	The Purpose of Punitive Damages.....	553
A.	Punishment	553
B.	Deterrence	554
C.	Retribution	554
D.	Societal Compensatory Damages.....	554

E. A Bridge Between Civil and Criminal Law.....	555
F. Implications for Attorneys' Fees	555
¶ 73.02. Appropriateness as a Civil Remedy.....	555
¶ 73.03. Verbal Standards.....	556
¶ 73.04. Judicial Control over Punitive Damages	557
A. Justification for Making Any Award	557
B. Reviewing Amounts of Punitive Damages	557
¶ 73.05. Statistics and Arguments About Effects in Litigation.....	562
¶ 73.06. Particularized Issues Concerning Punitive Damages.....	563
A. Post-Event Conduct	563
B. Insurance for Punitive Damages	564
C. Caps	565

[Chapters 74–75 are reserved for supplementary material]

PART SIX. TORT LAW AND ITS NEIGHBORS

Section Thirteen. Relation to Contract Law	569
Chapter Seventy-Six. Torts Involving Contracts.....	569
¶ 76.01. Suits for Refusal or Failure to Contract.....	570
A. Refusals to Deal	570
1. Initial Rejection of Economic Relations.....	570
2. Refusal to Continue Doing Business.....	571
B. Failure to Perform a Contractual Obligation	571
C. Bad Faith Denial of the Contract	572
D. Negligent Misrepresentation	573
¶ 76.02. Interference with Contractual Relations	574
End Notes.....	581
TABLE OF CASES	649
INDEX.....	659