

TABLE OF CONTENTS

---

|   |    |
|---|----|
| PREFACE .....   | V  |
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS .....                                 | IX |
| INTRODUCTION: STUDENT AND FACULTY COLLABORATION ..... | XI |

Chapter One. Meeting Ethical Obligations as Clinical

|  |          |
|--|----------|
| Students .....  | 1 |
| A. Why Read an Ethics Guide for Clinical Students?.....                        | 1        |
| B. Relationship with Your Supervisor .....                                     | 5        |
| C. An Introduction to Legal Ethics and ProfessionalResponsibility .....    | 5        |
| 1. What Are the Sources of Professional Conduct Rules forLawyers? .....    | 5        |
| 2. Why Do These Rules for Licensed Lawyers Apply toClinical Students?..... | 8        |
| 3. What Are a Lawyer’s Basic Ethical Obligations? .....                        | 11       |
| a. Client Identification.....  | 12       |
| b. Competence .....  | 12       |
| c. Client Control.....   | 13       |
| d. Communication .....   | 13       |
| e. Confidentiality .....   | 14       |
| f. Conflict of Interest Resolution .....                                       | 16       |
| D. Conclusion.....   | 16       |

Chapter Two. To Whom Do Clinic Students Owe Ethical Obligations?.....

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| A. Identifying Your “Law Firm” ..... | 19 |
| B. Prospective Clients .....         | 21 |
| 1. Identifying Prospective Clients .....    | 21        |
| a. Lawyer Consults .....                    | 22        |
| b. Informal Requests for Legal Advice ..... | 23        |
| 2. Duties Owed to Prospective Clients ..... | 28        |
| a. Declining Representations .....          | 28        |
| b. Accepting Representations.....           | 30        |
| 3. Conflicts Checks .....                   | 31        |
| C. Current Clients.....              | 33 |
| 1. Identifying Current Clients .....        | 33        |
| 2. Special Clients .....                    | 34        |
| a. Organizations.....                       | 35        |

|  |    |
|--|----|
| b. Clients with Diminished Capacity..... | 36 |
| D. Former Clients.....                   | 37 |
| E. Nonclients.....                       | 39 |
| F. Conclusion.....                       | 40 |

Chapter Three. Ethical Obligations During Client-Lawyer Representations: What Happens When You Say “Yes”?

|  |    |
|--|----|
| “Yes”? .....   | 43 |
| A. Client Identification .....   | 43 |
| B. Competence.....   | 44 |
| C. Client Control .....  | 46 |
| D. Communication.....  | 49 |
| 1. What Are the Metes and Bounds of the Lawyer’sObligation? .....              | 49 |
| 2. What Are the Lawyer’s Duties to Clients withCommunication Limitations?..... | 51 |
| a. Clients with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) andTranslator Services.....  | 52 |
| b. Clients with Diminished Capacity.....   | 54 |
| i. Taking Protective Action .....  | 55 |
| ii. Disclosure of a Client’s Condition .....                                       | 57 |
| c. Organizational Clients .....  | 59 |
| E. Confidentiality .....   | 59 |
| 1. Sharing Clinic Experience in the Classroom .....                                | 62 |
| 2. Distinguishing Confidentiality from the Attorney-ClientPrivilege .....      | 63 |
| 3. Use of Technology .....   | 66 |
| F. Conflicts of Interest.....  | 67 |
| G. Specific Conflicts .....  | 71 |
| H. Conclusion.....   | 73 |

Chapter Four. Ethical Duties After Terminating a Client Representation

|  |    |
|--|----|
| Representation .....                                   | 75 |
| A. Termination of the Client-Lawyer Relationship ..... | 76 |
| B. Obligations to Former Clients .....                 | 80 |
| 1. Confidentiality of Client Information.....          | 80 |
| 2. Conflicts of Interest .....                         | 83 |
| C. Conclusion.....                                     | 87 |

Chapter Five. The Limits or Bounds of the Law: When You Must Say “No”

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Must Say “No” .....                     | 89 |
| A. Criminal and Fraudulent Conduct..... | 90 |
| 1. Crime.....                           | 90 |

TABLE OF CONTENTS

---

2. Fraud..... 91

    a. Knowing Misrepresentation of Material Fact..... 93

    b. Lawyer Duped by Client into Misrepresentation of Material Fact..... 94

B. Rules of Procedure..... 97

    1. Frivolous Claims..... 98

    2. Disclosure of Adverse Legal Authority..... 100

    3. Production of Documents in Discovery ..... 101

C. Rules of Evidence ..... 103

    1. Privilege ..... 103

    2. False Evidence ..... 104

D. Conclusion..... 106

Chapter Six. Representing Clients Zealously Within the Bounds of the Law ..... 109

INDEX..... 113