Capsule Summary	1
Perspective	57
Chapter I. Antitrust Economics: Price Theory and Industrial Organization....	59
A) An Overview of Basic Price Theory for Antitrust	61
1. Supply and Price Under Perfect Competition	61
a. The Value of the Perfect Competition Model	61
b. Supply and Demand in Perfect Competition	61
1) The “Reservation Price”	61
2) The Supply Curve	62
3) Equilibrium	62
4) Consumers’ Surplus and Producers’ Surplus	64
5) Market Elasticities of Supply and Demand	64
c. The Output Decision of the Individual Firm in Perfect Competition: Marginal Cost	65
1) The Perfect Competitor’s Price Decision	65
2) The Perfect Competitor’s Output Decision	65
2. Monopoly	66
a. The Monopolist’s Price and Output Decisions	66
1) The Marginal Revenue Curve	67
2) The Monopolist’s Profit-Maximizing Price	67
b. The De Facto Monopolist in the Real World	68
c. The Social Cost of Monopoly	68
1) The Monopoly Wealth Transfer	69
2) The Deadweight Loss Triangle	69
B) Industrial Organization: Economies of Scale and the Dilemma of Antitrust Policy	69
1. Economies of Scale	69
a. Economies of Scale and Technology	70
b. Minimum Optimal Scale	70
2. Natural Monopoly	70
3. Two-Sided Platforms	71
4. The Dilemma of Antitrust Policy: Coping with Bigness	71
C) The Economic Model and Real World Markets	71
1. Product Differentiation	72
2. Price Discrimination	72
3. Transaction Costs	72
4. Barriers to Entry	72
D) Review Questions	72

Chapter II. Cartels, Tacit Collusion, Joint Ventures and Other Combinations of Competitors.....	73
A) How and When Price Fixing Works.....	75
1. The Cartel Market	75
a. Market Concentration.....	75
b. Barriers to Entry	75
c. Sales Methods.....	76
d. Product Homogeneity.....	76
e. Facilitating Devices.....	77
2. The Cartel Members	77
a. Firm Size.....	77
b. Efficiency.....	77
c. Extent of Participation.....	78
d. Incentives to Cheat and Cartel Countermeasures.....	78
3. Variations on Horizontal Collusion.....	79
a. Horizontal Territorial or Customer Division.....	79
b. Market Share Agreements.....	79
c. Output Reduction Schemes	80
d. Anti-Poaching Agreements	80
e. “Hub-and-Spoke” Conspiracies.....	80
B) Express and Tacit Collusion: An Introduction to the Oligopoly Problem	81
1. Oligopoly and the Sherman Act	81
2. Possible Approaches to the Oligopoly Problems	81
a. The Structural Approach	81
b. The Conduct Approach.....	82
c. The Agreement Requirement and the Antitrust Laws.....	82
d. Circumstantial Evidence of Express Collusion	82
e. Detecting and Challenging Tacit Collusion.....	84
1) Evidence of Markets Conducive to Tacit Collusion.....	84
2) Evidence That Collusion Is Occurring	85
3) Actual Communication or Action Making Independent Conduct Implausible Required	85
a) Basing Point Pricing by Agreement	87
b) Basing Point Pricing in the Absence of an Agreement	87
4) Tacit Collusion and the FTC Act.....	87
C) Joint Ventures and Other Ancillary Restraints Under § 1 of the Sherman Act.....	88
1. Joint Ventures: The Threat to Competition	88
2. The Firms Participating in the Venture Are Competitors	89
3. The Participants Control a Large Market Share	89
4. The Joint Venture’s Activities Affect Price or Output.....	89
5. The Venture Is Exclusive.....	89
6. Joint Ventures: Economic Rationales	90
7. Economies of Scale and Scope	90
8. Economies of Distribution	90
9. Solving Free Rider Problems.....	90
10. Joint Ventures in Network Industries.....	91
11. Joint Ventures and the Problem of Market Information.....	92
a. Market Information and Efficiency.....	93
b. Market Information and Collusion	93
12. Joint Ventures as Market Facilitators	94
13. Joint Ventures and Mergers.....	95

D)	Horizontal Agreements and the Per Se Rule: The Problem of Characterization	95
1.	Price-Affecting Conduct.....	96
2.	Public Conduct	96
3.	Conclusion: Some Guidelines for Deciding to Apply the Per Se Rule or the Rule of Reason.....	97
4.	The “Quick Look” for Highly Suspicious, or “Nearly Naked” Restraints	97
E)	The Death of the Intra-Enterprise Conspiracy Doctrine	98
F)	Review Questions.....	99

Chapter III. Monopolization, Attempt to Monopolize and Predatory

	Pricing.....	101
A)	Single-Firm Monopolization.....	103
1.	The Formulation of the Monopolization Offense	103
a.	The Development of the Offense	103
b.	The Modern Formulation of the Offense	104
2.	Monopoly Power in a Relevant Market	104
a.	Measuring Market Power Directly.....	104
b.	The Market Share Proxy	105
c.	Measuring the Relevant Product Market.....	105
1)	Identifying the Relevant Product Market.....	105
2)	Computing the Market Share.....	106
3)	Cross Elasticity of Demand	107
a)	The Cellophane Fallacy.....	107
b)	The Usefulness of the Concept of Cross Elasticity of Demand	108
4)	Measuring Elasticity of Supply	109
a)	Time of Entry	109
b)	Measuring the Output/Capacity of Competitors	109
c)	Judicial Recognition of Elasticity of Supply	110
d.	Measuring the Relevant Geographic Market.....	110
e.	How Big a Share of the Relevant Market Is Required?.....	111
f.	Entry Barriers	111
3.	Conduct Requirements	112
a.	The Rule of Reason in Monopolization Cases.....	112
1)	Injury to Competition and Injury to Competitors	112
2)	Intent.....	112
a)	Specific and General Intent	113
b)	Subjective and Objective Evidence of Intent	113
b.	Illustrative Exclusionary Practices.....	113
1)	Predatory Pricing	113
2)	Mergers to Monopoly.....	113
3)	Purchase and Shutdown of Rivals’ Plants	114
4)	Expansion of Output or Capacity.....	114
5)	Price Discrimination	114
6)	Vertical Integration.....	115
7)	Price and Supply “Squeezes”	115
8)	Exclusionary Discounting Practices.....	116
9)	Tying Arrangements	117
10)	“Predatory” Product Innovation; Failure to Pre-disclose.....	117
11)	Exclusionary Abuses of the Patent System	119
12)	Raising Rivals’ Costs	121

13)	Refusal to Deal with a Competitor	122
14)	“Essential Facility” Doctrine	123
B)	Attempt to Monopolize.....	124
1.	The Common Law and the Offense of Attempt to Monopolize.....	124
2.	Specific Intent	124
a.	The Problem of Identifying Illegitimate Intent.....	124
b.	Judicial Attempts to Define Illegitimate Intent.....	124
3.	Dangerous Probability of Success	125
a.	The Purpose of the Dangerous Probability Requirement.....	125
b.	Dangerous Probability and Market Power	126
4.	Conduct Requirements	126
a.	Basic Premises for Evaluating Conduct	126
b.	Business Torts Distinguished.....	126
C)	Predatory Pricing as Monopolization or Attempt to Monopolize.....	127
1.	Antitrust Policy and the Problem of Predatory Pricing.....	127
2.	How Often Does Predatory Pricing Occur?	127
3.	The Areeda-Turner Test for Predatory Pricing.....	127
a.	The Orthodox Formulation of the Areeda-Turner Test	127
1)	The Average Variable Cost (AVC) Surrogate	128
2)	The Basic Presumptions of the Areeda-Turner Test.....	128
3)	The Areeda-Turner Test and the Elements of the Attempt Offense.....	129
b.	The Areeda-Turner Test in the Courts	129
1)	Computation of Average Variable Cost.....	130
2)	The Proper Role of Intent.....	130
3)	The Proper Response to “Limit” Pricing	130
4.	“Dangerous Probability of Success”: When Is Predatory Pricing Plausible?.....	131
a.	High Barriers to Entry.....	131
b.	The Problem of Excess Capacity	131
c.	Predatory Pricing and the Nonmonopolist, Recoupment	131
D)	Predatory Pricing Under the Robinson-Patman Act	132
1.	The Recoupment Theory of Predatory Pricing	132

F)	Conspiracy to Monopolize.....	134
G)	Review Questions.....	135
Chapter IV. Vertical Integration and Vertical Mergers		137
A)	Introduction: The Nature of Vertical Integration.....	138
1.	Three Methods of Vertical Integration and Why Firms Choose Them	138
a.	The Nature of the Service or Product	138
b.	The Size of the Firms	138
c.	The Applicable Antitrust Laws	138
2.	Two Forms of Vertical Integration.....	139
a.	Ownership.....	139
b.	Contract	139
3.	Antitrust Treatment of the Forms of Vertical Integration.....	139
4.	Forward and Backward Vertical Integration.....	140

B)	Vertical Integration, Efficiency and Antitrust Policy.....	140
1.	Vertical Integration and Efficiency.....	140
a.	Production Cost Savings from Vertical Integration.....	140
b.	Transaction Cost Savings from Vertical Integration.....	141
c.	“Double Marginalization,” or the Problem of Market Power Held by Other Firms.....	142
d.	Vertical Integration and Optimum Product Distribution	143
2.	Perceived Dangers to Competition from Vertical Integration	143
a.	Increased Market Power.....	143
b.	Barriers to Entry.....	144
c.	Price Discrimination	144
d.	Rate Regulation Avoidance.....	145
e.	Vertical Integration by Cartels	145
C)	Vertical Mergers	145
1.	Vertical Mergers in the Case Law	146
a.	Subjective Intent and Pre-1950 Merger Law	146
b.	The Law of Vertical Mergers Since 1950.....	146
1)	The Foreclosure Theory	146
2)	The Entry Barrier Theory.....	148
2.	The 2020 Vertical Merger Guidelines.....	149
D)	Review Questions.....	150

Chapter V. Tie-Ins, Reciprocity, Exclusive Dealing and the Franchise

	Contract.....	151
A)	Introduction.....	153
B)	Judicial Tests for the Illegality of Tie-Ins	153
C)	The Ambiguous Problem of Tie-Ins and Consumer Welfare.....	153
D)	Tie-Ins, Market Power, and the Per Se Rule	154
1.	The Difference Between the Sherman Act and Clayton Act Tests	154
2.	The Consequences of a Two-Fold Test.....	154
